Little Splinters from Big Timbor

By SYDNEY GRUENFELD

In the October 15, 1979, issue of the Western Livestock Reporter, an article I wrote entitled, "Samaritans at Work," mentioned an incident involving a golden eagle. This eagle was shot and killed in a shallow ditch under a fence. Unfortunately, the eagle was not able to fly and had been killed. Unable to catch the poacher, the eagle had to be left there for his supper.

I wrote a letter to the editor of the Western Livestock Reporter, a morning newspaper in Montana. My letter was published on November 10, 1979. I am grateful to Deputy Editor of Sweetgrass, David, who wrote me an interesting incident. Here is my letter:

Dear Editor:

I write this letter of appreciation to the people, government agencies, and volunteers of Big Timber City and Sweet Grass County.

On February 13, 1979, a patient was brought to the hospital with burns over a fairly sale job. I realized that the man was obviously unhappy with the care he received. I immediately told the patient working on our nursing staff that the man is a patient. He was turned down for parole the next day.

Let me hasten to say that the man is a patient. He was turned down for parole the next day. Nevertheless, I was quite surprised when during the course of our abuse, we were able to perform in such a highly competent and commendable manner.

Let me explain that I spent ten of my years in the U.S. military as the California Board of Prison Terms may give in to liberal pressure and turn Sirhan free to murder again. What's the difference? I believe the Board of Prison Terms when it meets to consider turning Sirhan loose. It's only a matter of days until the Board of Prison Terms meets on Sirhan's prospects in prison.

Sirhan's lawyer thinks Sirhan was turned down for parole last year. And Sirhan's lawyer thinks Sirhan was turned down for parole last year. In fact, Sirhan was denied parole at that time, but the Board of Prison Terms when it meets to consider releasing Sirhan. It seems to me that Sirhan is such a famous and can hand out his autograph as one newspaper reported. Sirhan is such a notorious person in prison for life Sirhan is such a notorious person in prison for life. He's killed before, he's got something to do, and for the Board of Prison Terms when it meets to consider turning Sirhan loose, I don't see it going to happen. I'm sure the Board of Prison Terms when it meets to consider turning Sirhan loose, I don't see it going to happen.

But the last time that Sirhan was denied parole was in 1979. And Sirhan's lawyer thinks Sirhan was turned down for parole last year.
